Description of cave (or investigation):

As you come off ramp from UpA Running, big ramp directly in front of you. Bolt climbed under overhang and then straight up to what turned out to be an alcove.

To the North the calcite meets the roof at the back of the alcove. Directly ahead from the pitch head there is a 1.5m Ø inlet, which draughts strongly. It would be a direct climb up this vertical tube.

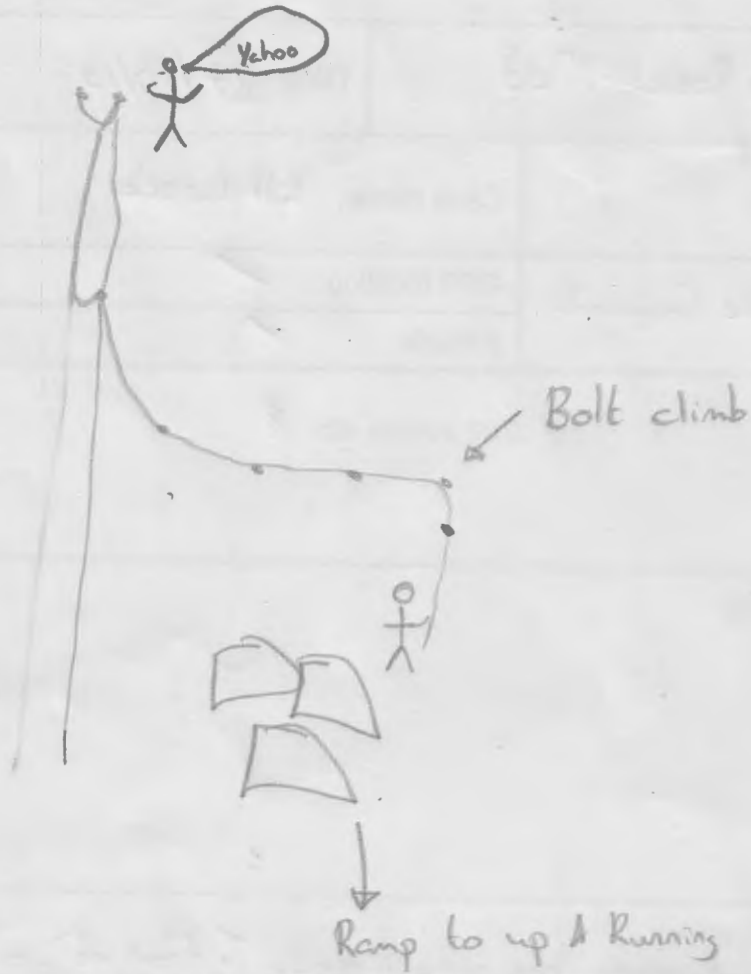

By the pitch head we saw 2 sets of fabric gloves and an empty candle box, suggesting nesters have accessed this, potentially by the shaft described
